Inclusion is a Human Rights and Civil Liberties issue that must be effectively tackled

UKDPC

United Kingdom
Disabled People's Council

We are working towards creating a world where disabled adults and children can enjoy their full human rights and civil liberties; a world where disabled people can fulfill their life ambitions without discrimination, isolation and institutionalisation.

We are the national umbrella organisation of disabled people, run and controlled by, and representing the rights of disabled people in the UK.

By working in partnership with disabled people's organisations, our supporters, the government and other organisations, we believe that equality can be achieved.

The inequalities that disabled people face on a daily basis include:

- human rights abuses
- poverty
- unemployment
- hate crime
- lack of education opportunities
- oppression
- isolation and social exclusion
- health inequalities

We work towards achieving our goal through the delivery of the following objectives:

- Being the national pan impairment umbrella organisation which represents the interests of its member groups
- Securing effective resources including; knowledge, finance and expertise, that enables us to effectively work towards the attainment of our objectives
- Strengthening the role of disabled people's organisations in the UK to promote the rights of disabled people at a local, regional and national level and deliver services which promote independent living
- Working with law and policy makers to:
 - promote civil rights for disabled people and challenge discriminatory practice
 - challenge the effectiveness of services used by disabled people to achieve independent living
 - ensure that they are involving disabled adults and children in decision making processes and that their concerns and interests are being heard
- Working with international partners, including the European Disability Forum and Disabled Peoples International to:
 - share good practice across nations
 - become allies in the promotion of human rights and civil liberties of disabled people across the world
